TABLE OF CONTENTS

Volume 67

ARTICLES

Presidential Address: The Past of the Future of Medicine / 1
John C. Burnham

The Beginnings of the Tobacco Controversy: Puritanism, James I, and the Royal Physicians / 28
David Harley

"Helps for Suddain Accidents": Stephen Bradwell and the Origin of the First Aid Guide / 51
Norman Gevitz

The Conceptualization of Influenza in Eighteenth-Century Britain: Specificity and Contagion / 74
Margaret DeLacy

Called by God, Led by Men: Women Face the Masculinization of American Medicine at the College of Medical Evangelists, 1909–1922 / 119
Clark Davis

Toads and Plague: The Amulet Controversy in Seventeenth-Century Medicine / 227
Martha R. Baldwin

An Eighteenth-Century Medical View of the Diseases of the Jews in Northeastern France: Medical Anthropology and the Politics of Jewish Emancipation / 248
Harvey Mitchell and Samuel S. Kottek

Robert Bentley Todd, Saint John's House, and the Origins of the Modern Trained Nurse / 282
Carol Helmstadter

Determining the Patient's Temperament: An Excursion into Seventeenth-Century Medical Semeiology / 417
Brian K. Nance

Abdominal Paracentesis: A Casualty of Reductionist Medical Therapeutics / 439
Barron H. Lerner

Cortisone and the Politics of Empire: Imperialism and British Medicine, 1918–1955 /463
David Cantor

Signa Mortifera: Death and Prognostication in Early Medieval Monastic Medicine / 631
Frederick S. Paxton

British Physicians, Medical Science, and the Cattle Plague, 1865–66 / 651
John R. Fisher

Uncle Sam's Loyal Nieces: American Medical Women, Citizenship, and War Service in World War I / 670
Kimberly Jensen

New Sources: The Purchase of Health Care by Selected American Households in 1917–1919: A Machine-readable Source / 696
Joel D. Howell

TEXTS AND DOCUMENTS

The Obstetrical Case Book of Walter Channing, 1811–1822 / 494
Amalie M. Kass

Cholera, Quarantines, and Immigration Restriction: The View from Johns Hopkins, 1892 / 691
Howard Markel

EDITORS' NOTE / vi

American Association for the History of Medicine: Report of the Sixty-sixth Annual Meeting /524
J. Worth Estes

NEWS AND EVENTS / 149, 320, 539, 703

ESSAY REVIEWS

Bodies of the Past: The Woman beneath the Skin, by Barbara Duden / 155
Thomas W. Laqueur

BOOK REVIEWS / 162, 326, 545, 709

CONTRIBUTORS / 225, 416, 630, 775

SUBJECT INDEX - VOLUME 67 /777